Long-awaited SMTOWN concert thrills Indonesian fans

More than 50,000 K-pop fans filled a stadium in Jakarta, Indonesia for the “SMTOWN LIVE 2023 SMCU PALACE @ Jakarta with KB Bank” concert on Saturday, according to SM Entertainment.

The concert starred SM Entertainment’s boy bands and girl groups including TVQX, NCT 127, NCT Dream, Super Junior, Red Velvet and aespa. Newly debuted boy band, Riize, also took the stage.

The concert at Gelora Bung Karno Main Stadium in Jakarta was a long time coming for Indonesian fans, who waited 11 years to see SMTOWN return to their country. The concert sold out, and fans who failed to find tickets tailgated outside of the stadium.

Besides the K-pop fans who attended the concert on site, fans from all over the world joined online through streaming platforms such as HYBE’s Weverse, Japan’s KNTV and Beyond Live.

The concert featured a total of 41 songs and lasted approximately 4 hours after its opening act at 6:30 p.m.

The artists performed popular songs from their music catalogs. A set list included “MIROTIC” (2008), “KICK IT” (2020), “Candy” (2022), “SORRY SORRY” (2009), “Get A Guitar,” “Red Flavor” (2017) and “Next Level” (2021). Giselle from aespa and Taeyong, Jeno, Hendrey and Yangyang from NCT made a collaborative special performance titled “ZOO.” For the finale, all the performers took the stage together and sang “Light” (2021), a symbol of SMTOWN.

BTS decides to stick together in rare move for K-pop industry

All seven members of boy band BTS promised to renew their contracts with HYBE and "stay together in 2025 and beyond," in a rare move in K-pop in which contract renewals come as some of the trickiest and most sensitive issues for both fans and companies.

"The board of BigHit Music all agreed to renew the exclusive contracts of BTS members RM, Jin, Suga, J-Hope, Jimin, V and Jungkook," the company said in a press release Wednesday.

The renewals will be made at different times for individual members because two members — Jin and J-Hope — are currently fulfilling their military duties, while member Suga is set to start his service on Friday.

To celebrate the renewal, BigHit Music will donate 1 billion won ($752,000) to Unicef. The contribution is part of the "Love Myself" campaign that the boy band began in collaboration with the Korean branch of Unicef in November 2017.

This is the second time for the members to renew their contracts with the agency. The band debuted in June 2013 and first renewed their contracts in October 2018, two years earlier than when their standard seven-year contracts would have ended. The company did not reveal how long these new contracts would last, but promised that "all of BTS will be together after 2025."

BTS's Jungkook, Blackpink, Tomorrow X Together, Stray Kids win awards at VMAs

Girl group Blackpink won two awards: Group of the Year and Best Choreography for "Pink Venom" (2022).

Fifty Fifty, FLO, Jonas Brothers, Måneskin, NewJeans, Seventeen and Tomorrow X Together were nominated for Group of the Year.

For four years straight until last year, BTS was the recipient of that award.

The boy band's member Jungkook, who made his official solo debut with the single "Seven" earlier this year, won Song of the Summer. He competed against a wide range of other hit songs, including Olivia Rodrigo's "Vampire," SZA's "Kill Bill," Dua Lipa's "Dance the Night," Fifty Fifty's "Cupid" and Troye Sivan's "Rush."

Jungkook is the first Korean solo artist to win the award.

Boy bands Tomorrow X Together was named the winner for Push Performance of the Year with "Sugar Rush Ride," while Stray Kids for Best K-pop with "S-Class."

In the Best K-pop category, the other nominees were aespa's "Girls," Blackpink's "Pink Venom," Fifty Fifty's "Cupid," Seventeen's "Super" and Tomorrow X Together's "Sugar Rush Ride."

Tomorrow X Together and Stray Kids were present to receive their awards, and each gave a performance of their songs. Blackpink and Jungkook did not attend the event.
